

CAPTRUST Adds Experienced Wealth Management Advisor Team in Cincinnati

CAPTRUST, one of the nation's leading independent wealth management and retirement plan advisory firms, today announced that advisors David Haire, Josh Haire, and Bridget Mitchell, formerly of HBK Wealth Management, have merged their practice with the firm. The transaction closed on January 1, 2017.

Based in the Cincinnati suburb of West Chester, Ohio, these advisors bring extensive experience in wealth management for high-net-worth individuals and families. "This relationship creates a distinct opportunity for both firms," said industry veteran and HBK Wealth Management President and Founder David Haire. "There are tremendous similarities between the two firms' culture, vision, and goals that will provide immediate value to our clients," he added. The West Chester location brings the total number of offices to 23 nationwide for CAPTRUST.

While known for its significant retirement plan advisory practice, CAPTRUST notably serves approximately 2,400 high-net-worth client households. These individual investors and families benefit from the scale and insights the firm has gleaned from its work as a fiduciary and investment advisor to some of the country's biggest retirement plans over the past three decades. This merger further expands CAPTRUST's wealth client base and expertise.

The merger marks the latest milestone in CAPTRUST's long-term journey to add top talent in key markets across the country. CAPTRUST CEO Fielding Miller said, "This is a great fit. These advisors are well-known and talented professionals with great reputations. We are looking forward to the opportunities that this partnership creates."
