Episode 13: Nonprofits and Cybersecurity

It's sad but true: Even nonprofits can fall victim to ransomware attacks. These cybersecurity breaches hinder an organization's ability to function and can create immediate reputation damage.

To better understand these risks and how to combat them, Heather Shanahan welcomes Dr. Dave Chatterjee, a cybersecurity thought leader, and Jon Meyer, CAPTRUST chief technology officer, in this episode of Mission + Markets.

Subscribe to Mission + Markets for more insights for nonprofits and mission-focused organizations.

Resources:

Previous Episode: Fundraising Strategies in Higher Education