

Episode 8: Trends in AI with Blackbaud

In episode eight of Mission + Markets, Heather Shanahan talks to Kate Averett Anderson, senior content manager at Blackbaud. They explore various aspects of AI technology trends and its applications in nonprofit organizations. The discussion covers:

- AI capabilities in nonprofits, including donor communication and grant writing.
- Donor prospecting and revenue optimization with AI.
- Emphasis on AI as a tool to enhance human efforts, not replace them.
- Trustworthy AI principles for responsible usage.
- Protecting donor privacy and maintaining transparency.

Subscribe to Mission + Markets for more insights for nonprofits and mission-focused organizations.

Under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, this podcast is defined as an advertisement and includes an uncompensated testimonial by a CAPTRUST client. Please be advised that clients' experiences as described in the podcast do not necessarily represent the experience of other clients.

Resources:

Last Episode: Episode 7: A Deep Dive Into Community Foundations

Blackbaud's Social Good Startup Program and Our Generative AI Cohort